

Episode 6 Discussion Questions

1. Before listening to this episode, how would you have answered the question, “Can you have opposite-sex friendships in marriage?”
2. Did you have any friendships before marriage that you still have, but the dynamic has shifted?
3. Do we currently have healthy boundaries in place regarding opposite-sex friendships? If not, what boundaries should we implement? If so, do we still agree with them, or do we need to reevaluate?
4. What guardrails do we have/do we need to have in place regarding conversations with those of the opposite sex?
5. Do I have any relationships you are uncomfortable with?
6. Do we have any relationships we feel like are in the danger zone?
7. Do we have any couple friendships where we are not comfortable with one part of the couple?
