

Episode 20 Discussion Questions

1. Dr. Gary Chapman said, “I want to enrich your life in any way that I can.” One way to enrich your spouse’s life is to be intentional about filling their “love tank.” On a scale of 0 – 10, how full is your love tank?
2. Specifically, how have I filled your love tank recently?
3. How can I be more intentional about filling your love tank this week?
4. When we are intentional about playing together, do you find it easier to be gracious and forgiving with one another?
5. Dr. Greg Smalley said if he could talk to the younger him, he would encourage himself to make sure his wife knows fully she is his loyalty and top priority. What are some specific examples of how I have shown you lately that you’re my loyalty and top priority?
6. Are there any ways I can be more intentional about prioritizing you this week/month/etc.?
7. Have you ever found yourself in an “assumption role?”
8. When I am intentional about showing you gratitude, how does that affect you?
9. In our current season of marriage, what do you find yourself naturally fixated on?
10. What are 2-3 ways we are building a great sex life?
11. What are 2-3 ways we are building a great marriage right now?
12. Remind me—what is one of the most romantic things I did for you while we were dating?
13. What is one creative date we can do in the next six weeks?